Research Proposal

The US and the UK Master's Research Proposal Writing Help

An important step towards writing your final Undergraduate or Master's dissertation is writing the 'dissertation research proposal.' The aim of the dissertation is to provide an opportunity for students to study a particular topic in depth, put into practice concepts and theories learned in the program, combine relevant theories and recommend alternatives, enable sufficient interaction with practitioners and show evidence of planning ability to manage project deadlines. Therefore, this step is the most demanding and daunting part of the dissertation process and by using our proposal writing service, you can relax and stress-free in the knowledge that work is being handled by an expert.

Dissertation Research Proposals are written with utmost care based on your specific university guidelines & Specifications

Tutors India Dissertation topic/ title provide a convincing rationale for critical decisions. We select topics from three sources, from student, supervisor, and external organization

Primary or secondary research: We deliver dissertation research proposal that utilized either primary or secondary research or using secondary research only. If you have given a choice of primary or secondary, we would strongly recommend primary than secondary, as it offers some insights on the originality. Although it's time-consuming, it is worth contributing something unknown to the research repository.

Qualitative or Quantitative or triangulation: We are completely aware that courses vary in terms of research methodologies. Hence our subject matter expertise would advise choosing the right methodology based on the research questions and problem statement that you had identified, or they would enable to identify the right one for you.

Specific Dissertation: Our dissertation proposal writing services also include a business plan, systematic review, meta-analysis as part of your dissertation requirement.
